

CERTIFICATE

A certificate is a course of study leading to a professional credential or certification. The number of credits or courses required is determined by the program offering the certificate.