

MINOR IN GLOBAL STUDIES

The mission of the Global Studies program is to help students understand trans-national phenomena and to provide them with a solid background for decision-making in an increasingly interdependent world community. Students are encouraged to connect their knowledge of a particular region of the world to larger transnational processes and to examine their identities in a global frame. The interdisciplinary Minor and Concentration in Global Studies helps students develop skills to function in a global market and the depth of understanding necessary to be responsible citizens of planet Earth.

Program Requirements

Code	Title	Credits
GL-150	Introduction to Global Studies	3
Three 200-level courses or higher		9
One 300-level or higher course		3
One additional course at any level		3

No more than two courses with the same course prefix (e.g., PO, CH, HI) can be counted towards the minor. In line with University policy, no more than one course (3-4 credits) may be reused between a major and a minor. Students are strongly encouraged to elect a world language course other than English and/or a study abroad course that meets the Global Studies criteria.

Courses that count toward Global Studies including the following. This list is not exhaustive and is subject to change. Students may be able to count courses not listed here with the approval of the IDS Chair and Global Studies Advisory Board.
